MAKE A BRAVE FIGHT

MacArthur's Troops Reach the Trenches Before Calumpit.

WITHDRAW TO TAKE A NEEDED REST.

The Advance to Be Resumed at Once—Six Men Killed and Twenty-Eight Wounded in Tuesday's Engagement.

Manila, April 26.—Gen. MacArthur's division fought its way to the Filipino trenches before Calumpit Tuesday, advancing four miles, mostly through woods and jungle, and crossing the Bagbag river. This was accomplished at a cost to the Americans of six killed and 28 wounded, the First South Dakota regiment being the heaviest loser. After fording the river the South Dakotans pursued the insurgents to the outskirts of Calumpit, but the town was found so strongly protected that Gen. MacArthur deemed it best to withdraw the tired fighters and to go into camp for a night's rest before making the final assault. The largest buildings in Calumpit were being fired by the Filipinos while the Americans were crossing the river fully a mile away, indicating the enemy's intention to abandon the place.

Insurgents Well Drilled.

The insurgents seem to have adopted a settled policy of retiring from one position after another, after inflicting the greatest possible damage upon the advancing army. The forces Tuesday were well drilled. Every foot of the ground was tenaciously disputed by thoroughly organized troops, who stood remarkably firm even before artillery.

The enemy had planned to wreck our artillery transport train. This attempt was a failure, but a span of the iron railway bridge over the river was destroyed, hampering the American transportation for some time. The Filipinos cut the girders, intending to have the structure fall with the train, but it collapsed prematurely of its own weight.

The Bagbag river, which is about a hundred yards wide at that point, was splendidly fortified, and the Americans were compelled to approach across an open space from which the rebels had cleared every obstruction to sight. The bank of the river, a high bluff, was surmounted with trenches, capped with rocks, loopholed and partly hidden by bushes.

Approach of Americans.

Gen. Wheaton's brigade approached the river along the railroad, leaving camp beyond Malolos city. Gen. Hale's, which started Monday, was earlier on the march and sweeping westward toward the railroad. The armored train was being pushed by Chinamen, the Twentieth Kansas regiment advancing in extended order on the left and the First Montana regiment, with the Utah light artillery, on the right. The rapid-firing guns on the train "opened the ball" at 11:30 a. m. about a mile from the river, their popping alternating continuously with the boom of the six-pounders.

The Montana regiment and the Utah artillery batteries at the same time entered the jungle, from which the insurgents, who were occupying a large, straggling village of Hub, poured heavy volleys. It the course of an hour the Americans had forced a passage through the woods to the open space in front of the river, and the artillery, immediately on wheeling into the open, began shelling the Filipino trenches.

Col. Funston Again in Evidence.

In the meantime company K, Twentieth Kansas, led by Capt. Beltwood, performed one of the most brilliant achievements of the campaign. The regiment was being held in reserve, and company K charged a distance of a quarter of a mile over a cornfield to the bank of the river, near the bridge, where the insurgents from a trench were peppering the armored train, then about 200 yards down the track. The company found shelter in a ditch. Col. Frederick Funston called for volunteers to cross the river, and the colonel himself, Lieut. Ball, a private of company K, a private of company E, Trumpeter Barsfield and Corp. Ferguson, of company I, crawled along the iron girders. While this was going on the men of company K, from the ditch were fusing the trenches in the endeavor to divert attention, but the Filipinos got the range from a trench down the river, and their bullets soon splattered the water under the structure. Having reached the broken span, the fore Calumpit, from which the Filipinos were pouring continuous volleys.

The armored car had one man killed and two wounded during the charge, and the Utah light artillery one killed and two wounded. Most of the other casualties befell the South Dakota regiments. It is difficult to estimate the insurgent losses, but they had no fewer than 70 killed, many of them by the artillery.

The rebels are already returning to Malolos and are becoming troublesome. They fired on an ambulance Monday which was passing across the Plaza and they have driven the Chinese out.

Fifty Filipinos Killed.

New York, April 26.—A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says: The movement of the American forces on Calumpit has begun. Gen. Hale's brigade crossed the river at Quingua and is moving down the bank of the river toward Calumpit.

Many insurgents were driven from in front of the line of march. Fifty of the enemy were killed, while the American loss was only one killed.

It is reported that Gen. MacArthur, with Wheaton's brigade and an armored train, is waiting at Malolos for the strategic moment for an advance on Calumpit. This advance from Malolos is momentarily expected to begin.

The town of Malolos will be evacuated, only the railway station being held. The natives are returning there in great numbers. All are professed noncombatants.

The army gunboats being unable to ascend the river to cooperate in the Calumpit to Be Taken.

Washington, April 26.—The following has been received at the war department from Gen. Otis:

"Manila, April 25.—Adjutant General, Washington: Hale's brigade, MacArthur's division, moved down right bank Quingua river yesterday to vicinity Calumpit, now joined by Wheaton's brigade on left bank. Hale encountered fierce opposition, driving enemy with heavy loss, taking his intrenchments in flank. Hale's casualty six killed, 12 wounded. The division has now invested Calumpit which will be taken to-day. Lawton with part of his command reaches Norzagaray this evening where he will be joined by center column from Bocaue. Extreme heat, rain, high streams, bad roads made march very difficult. He has not met opposition since leaving Norvaliches, enemy retreating in his front. South of and near Manila enemy has a force of 4,000, making demonstrations daily; can be easily taken care of. It cannot communicate with north. List of casualties of day before yesterday cabled to-day.

To Be Brought Home.

Washington, April 26.—Gov. Lind, of Minnesota, is in the city in conference with officials of the war department. He was informed Tuesday that the Thirtieth Minnesota regiment would be brought back to the United States as soon as the transportation arrangements could be made.

Helped from the Outside.

Washington, April 26.—Army officials have learned that since Manila fell the Filipinos have been obtaining supplies of ammunition from Hong-Kong and Singapore, as well as from Europe. A strict naval patrol of the island of Luzon has been established, and the belief is expressed that the supply of ammunition will now be cut off. It is positively stated that the Filipinos have no factory for the manufacture of smokeless powder and Mauser cartridges which they are using.

Will Rest in Arlington.

Washington, April 26.—The gallant marines who lost their lives in the early fighting around Guantanamo are to be interred in Arlington cemetery beside the bodies of the soldiers whose remains were recently brought from Cuba and Porto Rico. The funeral ship Crook is now on her way to New York with these bodies, together with the remains of a number of soldiers disinterred in Porto Rico. It is expected that these remains will reach here Monday or Tuesday next.

Will Be Argued May 5.

Lansing, Mich., April 26.—The supreme court has assigned May 5 as the date for arguments in the case brought to test the act authorizing municipal ownership and operation of street railways in Detroit. The attorney-general appears as relator in a quo warranto proceeding brought to test the authority of the Detroit street railway commission.

WRITES LETTER TO SECRETARY LONG

Says the Remarks Were Not Intended for Publication, and That the Newspapers Distorted His Language.

Washington, April 26.—At the cabinet meeting Tuesday, the recent utterances of Capt. Coghlan, of the cruiser Raleigh, were informally discussed. Secretary Long said he had received a letter on the subject from Capt. Coghlan. The captain disclaimed any intention of insulting the German emperor or Admiral Von Diederichs, and his remarks on the occasion of the Union League club banquet were made in the most informal manner in the company of friends, without any thought that he would be reported in the public press. As they did appear, he said, they were exaggerated and distorted, and he was made to say things which he did not utter. He claims that under the circumstances his remarks should be regarded as privileged. After the cabinet meeting adjourned, Secretary Long and Secretary Hay remained a short time with the president to further discuss the matter. It is understood that the captain will soon retire from the service through the regular channel, and it is thought that in view of this fact, and, further, that he rendered distinguished service at the naval

Is Losing Importance.

Washington, April 26.—It is the impression that the case of Capt. Coghlan is losing importance as the days pass and his action is viewed in a more considerate light. A high official whose advice would have much to do with shaping the fate of Capt. Coghlan said that in his opinion the needs of the case would be completely met by a sharp letter of reprimand addressed to him by the navy department if the captain admitted he was correctly reported.

The German ambassador has not communicated with the state department on this subject since Monday, and it is believed that the German government is now content to await the action of the navy department without further pressing the matter.

The view was expressed at the German embassy Tuesday that the Coghlan affair was practically ended and that with the administering of a reprimand by the navy department the incident would be closed.

dor here, Dr. Von Holleben. The new company is to be known as the German-American Telegraph company, and among those interested in it are prominent firms in Germany as well as a number of Americans. The German terminus of the new cable will, it is understood, be at Ems, a town and watering place in the province of Hesse-Nassau, Prussia, near Coblenz. The American terminus is expected to be at New York. The route of the line will be by way of the Azores, a Portuguese possession, so that it is presumed that concessions also have been obtained from Portugal. This will be the first cable ever laid between Germany and the United States, and with the Franco-American cable will be the only line not touching on British soil.

Col. Funston said afterwards: "It wasn't much to do. We knew they could not shoot straight, and that our boys would attend to them while we were crossing."

Gen. Hale's troops, on the right, had the hardest fight. They followed the north bank of the river nearest the town, from the east, with the First Nebraska regiment on the left and the First South Dakota and the Fifty-first Iowa beyond. The country to be traversed was mostly jungle, but the Filipinos stood their ground even in the open spaces. Gen. Hale's right joined Gen. Wheaton's left soon after noon, a curve in the river enabling the Americans to pour an enflaming fire into the enemy's trenches. About this time the cheers of the Kansas troops announced that the Americans had crossed the river. Gen. Hale's men began to ford the Chico, a branch of the Bagbag, stretching to the northeast. German Newspaper Comment.

Berlin, April 26.—The German press continues to maintain a moderate tone regarding the utterances of Capt. Coghlan. The Neuste Nachrichten and the Frankfurter Zeitung confess that "the American sailors had a certain amount of justification for irritation at the presence of the German men-of-war at Manila." The Frankfurter Zeitung suggests that it was not the German foreign office, but Emperor William who was responsible for the "officiousness of the German squadron." One journal, which has lately published violent articles against Great Britain and the United States, acknowledges with great readiness "the civility of the United States government in robbing Capt. Coghlan's tactless invective of all offensiveness and political significance."

German-American Cable.

Washington, April 26.—A signal evidence of the purpose of the United States to maintain friendly relations with Germany has been given in the favorable action of the president, at the instance of Secretary Hay, in approving the project for a new transatlantic cable running between Germany and the United States. The project was brought forward by prominent German-American interests and has had the active support of the German ambassa-

Is Rising.

Omaha, Neb., April 26.—The rise of the Missouri river at this point has resulted in driving 600 people from their homes and nearly the total submergence of bottom lands territory six miles long and two miles wide. The water still continues to rise slowly. The conditions summed up briefly are as follows: Eighteen inches rise of water on the bottoms; the Missouri river flowing directly through Florence lake to Cut Off lake and the bottoms; water within four inches of flowing over Locust street at Twelfth; Eleventh street, opposite Burdette, half broken away, and water pouring over in a torrent till stopped partially by desperate attempts at embankments. Water is in the icehouse of Swift & Co. and the South Omaha company, and is doing much damage. All the manufacturing plants on the bottoms are flooded, and the Union Pacific and Terminal company's tracks cannot be used. All night a force of men armed with Winchesters patrolled the dike on the north side of East Locust street to prevent its shutting. This would relieve the pressure above, but would let a torrent through and destroy thousands of dollars' of railroad property, and throw the river over into its old channel. The water is now within about four inches of the top of this dike, and the pressure is tremendous. Every building on the bottoms is flooded, the water being half way up to the eaves of many houses. The river is falling above Omaha.

Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—A still further rise in the Missouri river of five inches was recorded here Tuesday. The gauge Tuesday morning read 22.2, 1 1-10 feet over the danger line. The water in the bottom has encroached gradually on the squatters' property and on the cellars of business houses situated on the river, but no serious damage is apparent. The rise at St. Joseph in the past 24 hours has amounted to four inches and at Plattsmouth to two inches.

Trip of the Nashville.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 26.—The gunboat Nashville reached here late Tuesday afternoon and anchored opposite the city. The vessel was given an enthusiastic reception, several steamers with large excursion parties meeting her ten miles below the city and escorting her to her anchorage. A salute of 21 guns was fired by the Warren light artillery, and every steam whistle in the city blew a welcome. The Nashville will leave here Thursday morning.

Six Reported Drowned.

Victoria, B. C., April 26.—A story has reached here from Alaska to the effect that a party of six returning Klondikers, one of whom is said to have been bringing out considerable treasure, have been drowned near Fifty Mile, where the river trail is now impassable. The story was given at Skagway by a late arrival, but it is unconfirmed by the other late comers. No names were given.

Died in New York.

New York, April 26.—The body of Wirt Dexter Walker, a Chicago lawyer, who died Monday night at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, of pneumonia, was taken to Chicago Tuesday. Mr. Walker had been in the hotel a short time when he died. He was about to sail for Europe with his wife.

Rugs...

The wearing and coloring of the Rugs AND Carpets

we offer have little in common with anything shown last season. There is great variety and decided novelty.

The designs are refined and of great richness. Tints are delightfully blended or harmoniously contrasted. Our patterns shown will prove pleasing.

And in quality these goods have no superiors. The cheapest Ingrain is found of great durability.

Our prices will please the most careful buyers. Good, All Wool Ingrains at 50c, better grades at 60c and 65c.

We make a specialty of the Roxbury Tap. Brussels, but have also a full line of the cheaper grades.

Parquet floor and wood carpet floors to order. Estimates cheerfully submitted.

GIVE THE CHILDREN A DRINK called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee, but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder, and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about 1/4 as much as coffee. 15 and 25c.

Arkansas has passed an anti-trust law, Georgia should take the hint and pass an anti-lynch law.

Pennsylvania, California, Delaware and Utah have failed to elect a senator and the governors of Pennsylvania and California have appointed senators who will not be given seats. They will have to remain standing.

It is said that the reason that the Hon. Chas. E. Hisecock could not be induced to accept a renomination at the hands of his party for the mayoralty, was that he was overburdened. Mr. Hisecock is a white man, and troubled with the white man's burden.

The lynching of negroes in the South is a disgrace to the fair name of the Union. In all that relates to education, industry and all else that forms a part of the common rights of the citizens of the United States we should deal in a fair and equal manner with our negro citizens, or if the balance of discrimination inclines to either side it should be with the intention of helping rather than hindering the elevation of the negro race in our country, to make up in some degree for the many wrongs which they have suffered since their ancestors were brought to our shores in slave ships.

Everything has an end. The beef inquiry is over, and the court is now working upon its report, which is looked for this week. Some very radical predictions are being made as to the nature of the report, such as that it will white-wash the war department officials and censure Gen. Miles and other officers who found fault with the beef; but conservative men believe that the report will be a different sort of a document; that it will aim to be of such a nature that all parties concerned can, without loss of dignity, consent to drop the whole controversy, which many think to have already been productive of much more harm than good. It will soon be known which of these predictions is the correct one, as the understanding is that the report will be made public as soon as it is submitted.

The fact that the contest for the speakership of the house, a position second only to the presidency in importance, and made Mr. Reed second in power over legislation to none, which has been precipitated by the announcement that Mr. Reed has become a member of a New York law firm and would retire from public life, promises to be between the East and the West is not surprising. Of the 32 speakers of the house, and four—Keifer, of Ohio, and Davis, Colfax and Kerr, of Indiana—have come from the West, while 15 of them have been taken from the South, and the other 13 from the East. In ante-war times the West was not sufficiently influential in political councils to make an effective protest against not getting its share of the honors, but it is different now, especially in the house, where the West furnishes more than a majority of the votes of the party in control. This would seem to make it easy to elect a Western speaker, and so it would if there were only one candidate from that section, but there are several; consequently there is no certainty about the section that the next speaker will come from. It is believed in Washington that the candidate who gets the support of the administration will get the speakership, regardless of what state he comes from. But it is a natural failing for those in Washington to always exaggerate official power and to assume that the administration will be the winning factor in all contests within the party in power, but there have been occasions when the administration candidate for speaker has been defeated. DR. BILLS WAS CONFIRMED ;
WHAT ARE JUDSON'S CHANCES?

The following from Britton, the well known Detroit Journal correspondent, appeared in his last night's paper under a Lansing date line:

"The senate's executive committee has decided to recommend the confirmation of Dr. Bills, of Allegan, to be a member of the board of the Jackson prison. As they would not do this without strong assurances relative to Warden Chamberlain, Bill Judson's last chance of securing control of the prison is believed to have gone glimmering. One or two nominations for board appointments will also be reported."

Dr. Bills was confirmed by the senate yesterday.

Mr. Judson was asked about what his chances are for the wardenship under this turn of affairs. Said he:

"I don't know. I never saw Bills or had a word with him in my life."

THE BROTHER
TELLS THE STORYOF THE LIFE OF HENRY SAUNDERS
WHO WAS BURIED HERE.IN BEFRIENDING A FRIEND HE GOT HIM-SELF INTO TROUBLE.

The Times is in receipt of a long communication in regard to the death of Harry Saunders, which appeared in last night's issue. After stating that the deceased was born in New York instead of Ann Arbor, and that he was 53 years of age instead of 61, the communication says:

"In regard to that 20-year-ago trouble I wish to say, and every one who ever knew him during his lifetime will bear me out in the assertion, that the attempt to get hold of that bond was not to secure any pecuniary gain for himself, but simply showed his disposition, or principle, never to forsake a friend. It will be remembered that at that time he was a comparatively young lawyer and was having a large practice. He was the attorney in a case and his clients were placed under bonds—$2,000, I think. In some way he was persuaded to get a particular friend of his to go on the bond. He did not, but the client, 'jumped their bail,' and he, being assured that the prosecution intended to make this friend of his pay the $2,000, decided, if he could help it, to save his friend from losing the money. All he thought of was to save his friend from loss. He made an attempt, but failed, and very few ever knew how he suffered and paid the penalty for that one fatal step. Another client of his was the one to do this dirty work (purloin the papers from the clerk's desk) in lieu of paying fees for services performed. This client (not Saunders, as stated) was the one caught in the room by the police, and who told them that he was sent there by Saunders, whose arrest followed. The balance of your article on this subject is substantially correct."

"He was naturally very sensitive and quick to note what occurred around him, never intruding his presence where it was not wanted or where he did not consider himself morally or socially equal to or above those with whom he wished to associate. "It is not true that he was only a police court lawyer, for he practiced in the justice, police, recorder's and circuit courts, having tried two cases in the recorder's court, two in the police court and one in the justice court on the day of his death, and the excitement of the day, together with a political discussion in which he was engaged, brought on the attack of heart disease which caused his death."

"And as to his going into Hausmann's in an intoxicated condition shortly before his death. It was stated to me by Hausmann, a gentleman from Grand Rapids (whose name has slipped my memory) who told me that he had come all the way from that city to have Harry fix up his business for him, as he had tended to all his law business for the past 20 years. The landlord of the house where Harry lived and a number of others that he was perfectly sober all day Saturday, having been busy in the courts and not having time to drink if he had so desired."

"And as to that $10 order, no one in Detroit that I could see seemed to know anything about it. I do not deny that the order was given to him, but I do not think that he secured any money on it from the fact that the small amount found on his person and what he had been known to expend, was accounted for in another manner."

"After all has been said that can be said, you can hear it on all sides in Detroit, that 'He never would desert a friend,' 'What he promised you he would do, you could be sure he would do.' 'Everybody was his friend.' 'He was too generous for his own good.' 'He was his own worst enemy,' etc., etc. Respectfully yours,
HIS BROTHER.

TO SEND A TELEGRAM TO DETROIT WITHOUT WIRES.EXPERIMENT TO BE MADE—A TALK WITH DR. TROWBRIDGE.

A project is on foot to set up a system for wireless telegraphy between Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, and Detroit as soon as the polarized relay reaches here.

In an interview in Sunday's News-Tribune, Dr. Augustus Trowbridge gave a clear explanation of the system. The closing of the interview is as follows:

"Is there any reasonable ground for believing the distance to which the system is applicable is limited?"

"The possibilities of the invention cannot be definitely predicted. Signor G. Marconi, the inventor, who recently obtained permission from the French government to establish a station on the French coast for the purpose of experimenting with wireless telegraphy between England and France, announces that he has conducted successful experiments between South England, in Kent, and Wimereux, near Bologne, France, the distance being 32 miles. This barely hints of the great things developed in the future. Thus far the experiments have been highly successful and the messages have passed with ease. Marconi personally superintended the test, and the London Times received the first wireless press message across the channel. The Morse code was used, and the messages were read with no more difficulty than those transmitted by cable. Still greater things may be disclosed to science when the system now in course of construction between Folkestone and Paris, a distance of 230 miles, is completed."

"Will the old method of telegraphy be superseded by the new?"

"I do not think that wireless telegraphy will ever supersede the method now in use where it is cheap to lay the wires. It is too 'open,' and may be tapped almost anywhere along its course. But there are other circumstances under which it would be of priceless value, and also where it is a

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.A CHRONOLOGY OF ITS MOVEMENTS
DURING THE YEAR.

One year ago today Company A left Ann Arbor for Island Lake. The boys are now on the point of being mustered out.

The chronology of the company since leaving Ann Arbor is as follows:

FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1898—(The day when Patrick Millin fired first shot of the war)—Commences extra drills at the armory; 40 new men enlisted.

SATURDAY, APR. 23—Receives orders from Gov. Pingree to hold themselves in readiness.

TUESDAY, APR. 26—Left for Island Lake encampment amid much enthusiasm and patriotism.

MONDAY, MAY 2—All but 8 men agree to volunteer for the service.

SATURDAY, MAY 7—Capt. Kirk promoted to major of 3d battalion of the regiment.

SUNDAY, MAY 8—1st company in the state to be mustered into the volunteer service.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11—Name of the regiment changed to 31st Michigan Volunteers.

SUNDAY, MAY 15—Left for Chickamauga Park, Tenn.

TUESDAY, MAY 17—Arrived at Chickamauga.

SUNDAY, JULY 24—Anticipate going to Porto Rico. Plans changed later.

MONDAY, AUG. 8—Thirty-first regiment highly commended by Gen. Brooke, Gen. Breckenridge and Gen. Roe.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 10—Fred Von Walhausen dies of fever.

VALUABLE COIN FOUND
UNDER COURT HOUSE WALK.

LESTER CANFIELD'S NEW

AND VERY SOFT JOB.

William A. Rayer, while at work removing the earth for the new stone sidewalk on the west side of the court house square this morning, found an old and valuable coin. On one side was a likeness of the first president of the United States, with the following words question of telegraphy without wires or of laying a cable the enormous cost involved in the latter case will often turn the scales in favor of the new method."

"You speak of other circumstances under which it would be of value?"

"Yes. I will speak first of its possible use upon the sea. When stormy weather and heavy fogs place light-houses at such a disadvantage, a system of telegraphical alarms would be of inestimable value. A ship could be warned of her danger when five, ten or twenty miles at sea. Perhaps you are a little puzzled, and ask yourself the question why might not this ship's receiver be affected at an infinite distance from the coast, and not being able to tell whether that coast was 10 or 100 miles away, be thrown entirely from her course? It is explained simply in a single statement. You can cut down the sensitiveness of the instrument by making the coherer less sensitive, and thus make the alarms noticeable at five, ten, or a hundred miles at your own convenience. Marconi says the Italian navy is communicating with some application of this system now. It might prove a beautiful acquisition in warfare, though I candidly admit it is quite early to prophesy. A cipher could be used, and the dangerous practice of 'wig-wagging' be done away with."

"Are not the electro-magnetic waves which Marconi uses generated in such a manner that they spread in all directions?"

"Yes, but that can be obviated to a considerable degree. The waves can be reflected in any desired direction by the use of mirrors, but even then, if the receiving station is some miles away, their course is a comparatively wide one and can be tapped by any one who has a receiving instrument of the right sort. A system of wireless telegraph differing in principle from that of Marconi, and promising absolute secrecy, is attracting some attention in the world of science, but even if perfected, its costliness will make it available only for service in which it is feasible to lay out large sums of money. Prof. Zickler, of Brunn, Moravia, claims the honor of having discovered the method, and though there are some rumors of Zickler outdoing Marconi, I do not think it probable, though as I told you at the beginning of this interview, I consider prophesies somewhat premature."

ASCHER TOOK HIS LAST NIP OF BOOZE YESTERDAY.

A Jackson dispatch says: Ascher, the lifer from Detroit, was the drawing card at the Michigan Central depot this forenoon. He chatted pleasantly en route to the prison. He took one last nip of booze on the corner of Mechanic and Main streets. At the prison he seemed interested rather than cast down, expressing himself as sure of a new trial and acquittal. He was taken to the hall master's office, where he donned the stripes and was placed in a cell to await orders for work.

He will be assigned, probably, to the trip-hammer shop, which is designated by convicts as next door to hades, as there are 100 hot fires burning all day and men work with only underclothing on. He is the last one in and numbered 7,028 on the prison book.

BRIDGEWATER
MAN IN A ROWONE MAN DAMS THE WATER ; THE OTHER
DAMS THE PAMN.AND THE SECOND MAN ALSO WANTS SOME DAMAGES.

There is a dam case in the circuit court today.

Charles Finkbinder and Christian Ernst have land on the south-east quarter of Section 24, Bridgewater. Ernst owns 80 acres, Hochrom has a strip of 22 acres, which does not extend clear across the quarter section and Finkbinder owns the "L" shaped balance.

Heavy rains coming down Ernst's land goes across the corner of Hochrom's, then passes onto the upper corner of Finkbinder's land and again passes onto Ernst's land. That is, it did before Ernst put in a dam just at the point where the water would naturally flow back onto his land. He dammed the water and now Finkbinder is damning him.

The water it is claimed is diverted from the natural course back on Finkbinder's "L" and spoils about ten acres of his corn field. The plaintiff contends that in some places 30 feet was washed out and numerous small gulleys made. In fact it has made two fields of his ten acre spot. In consequence he wants damages from Ernst.

The defense in the case is that the original course of the water was over Finkbinder's land, and when Mr. Ernst built the dam he was simply diverting the water back where it originally ran.

BRITISH GUARDS BAND
HERE SATURDAY.

Ann Arbor is fortunate in that this week it will have the opportunity of hearing Lieut. Dan Godfrey's band. This band has been making a tour of Canada and has also visited a few of the prominent cities of the United States. Last Sunday they gave a concert in Detroit which was received enthusiastically. During the remainder of this week they will be in the West giving a series of concerts in Chicago and a few intermediate cities. Returning to Detroit for a concert Saturday, they will stop off at Ann Arbor for a few hours and give a matinee on Saturday afternoon. It is by the merest good fortune that this band has been secured, as they were averse to visiting any of the smaller towns when so welcome in the large cities. The band is now making its final tour of this country, and in a short time will leave for Australia.

Godfrey's band, though perhaps not very well known in the United States, is the most famous of all the British military bands. It is a wonderful band and its stirring music fairly carries away the audiences. Those who have heard both bands, say that Sousa's popular band suffers by comparison with Godfrey's, even in playing the "March King's" own productions. The band is the official one of the Royal British Guards and now is absent from duty on furlough. Lieut. Godfrey himself is bandmaster to Her Royal Highness Victoria. The leader and the other musicians when upon the stage in their glorious military uniforms, make an imposing appearance.

The concert here will be given in University hall Saturday afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock. It is to be under the auspices of the University Athletic association and they will take full charge of the affair. So as to give everybody an opportunity to hear this concert and fill the hall to its limit, the price of admission has been reduced from $1 to 50 cents. There will be no reserved seats.

It is believed in Washington that the candidate who gets the support of the administration will get the speakership, regardless of what state he comes from. But it is a natural failing for those in Washington to always exaggerate official power and to assume that the administration will be the winning factor in all contests within the party in power, but there have been occasions when the administration candidate for speaker has been defeated. President McKinley's long experience in the house will go a long way, however, towards enabling him to choose a man for the administration candidate who can win, and the chances are decidedly in favor of his doing that very thing. Representative Payne, of New York, who was chairman of the ways and means committee of the last house, and floor leader of the majority, spent Sunday in Washington, and took occasion to publicly announce his candidacy for the speakership. He is the first in the field, but there is no danger of his becoming lonesome.

WHO WAS BURIED HERE IN BEFRIENDING A FRIEND HE GOT HIMSELF INTO TROUBLE.

The Times is in receipt of a long communication in regard to the death of Harry Saunders, which appeared in last night's issue. After stating that the deceased was born in New York instead of Ann Arbor, and that he was 53 years of age instead of 61, the communication says:

"In regard to that 20-year-old trouble I wish to say, and every one who ever knew him during his lifetime will bear me out in the assertion, that the attempt to get hold of that bond was not to secure any pecuniary gain for himself, but simply showed his disposition, or principle, never to forsake a friend. It will be remembered that at that time he was a comparatively young lawyer and was having a large practice. He was the attorney in a case and his clients were placed under bonds $2,000. I think in some way he was persuaded to get a particular friend of his to go on the bonds. He did so. The clients 'jumped their bail,' and he, being assured that the prosecution intended to make this friend of his pay the $2,000, decided, if he could help, to save his friend from losing the money. All he thought of was to save his friend from loss. He made an attempt, but failed, and very few ever knew how he suffered and paid the penalty for that one fatal step. Another client of his was the one for whose dirty work in the police court and one in the justice court on the day of his death, and the excitement of the day, together with a political discussion in which he was engaged, brought on the attack of heart disease which caused his death.

"And as to his going into Hausmann's in an intoxicated condition shortly before his death. It was stated to me by Hausmann, a gentleman from Grand Rapids (whose name has slipped my memory) who told me that he had come all the way from that city to have Harry fix up his business for him, as he had tended to all his law business for the past 20 years. The landlord of the house where Harry lived and a number of others that he was perfectly sober all day Saturday, having been busy in the courts and not having time to drink if he had so desired.

"And as to that $10 order, no one in Detroit that I could see seemed to know anything about it. I do not deny that the order was given to him, but I do not think that he secured any money on it from the fact that the small amount found on his person and what he had been known to expend, was accounted for in another manner.

"After all has been said that can be said, you can hear it on all sides in Detroit, that 'He never would desert a friend,' 'What he promised you he would do,' 'Everybody was his friend,' 'He was too generous for his own good,' 'He was his own worst enemy,' etc., etc. Respectfully yours,

HIS BROTHER.

CELEBRATED TOM JOHNSON WAS IN TOWN TODAY.

Tom Johnson, the ex-congressman, single taxer and philanthropist (when it comes to dumping the street railway of Detroit on the taxpayers for the benefit of all the people), was in the city today.

He and Vice-President Hutchins, of the Citizens' Street Railway Co., and three others came out in a special car over the D., Y. & A. A. road for a pleasure trip. The car was fitted up with all the accessories for a good time, and the jolly face of the big manipulator demonstrated the fact that he was having his share of it.

The car was a travelling palace. It was left just north of the Athens theatre, while the party engaged in a carriage drive about town.

THREE CASES AGAINST THE D. Y. & A. A. RAILROAD.

Attorney Cavanaugh commenced three cases against the D. Y. & A. A. road today in Justice Duffy's court, claiming $100 damages in each.

The first was that of Wm. Holmes, the liveryman, whose horse was killed. The second was that of U. S. Darling, whose calf came to an untimely end while trying to determine the force of impact of a motor car.

The third was that of Charles Brandt, who was tipped over when Samuel Dett's horse was killed. He claims his shoulder was injured.

between England and France, announces that he has conducted successful experiments between South England, in Kent, and Wimereux, near Bologne, France, the distance being 32 miles. This barely hints of the great things enveloped in the future. Thus far the experiments have been highly successful and the messages have passed with ease. Marconi personally superintended the test, and the London Times received the first wireless press message across the channel. The Morse code was used, and the messages were read with no more difficulty than those transmitted by cable. Still greater things may be disclosed to science when the system now in course of construction between Folkestone and Paris, a distance of 230 miles, is completed."

"Will the old method of telegraphy be superseded by the new?"

"I do not think that wireless telegraphy will ever supersede the method now in use where it is cheap to lay the wires. It is too 'open,' and may be tapped almost anywhere along its course. But there are other circumstances under which it would be of priceless value, and also where it is a

A CHRONOLOGY OF ITS MOVEMENTS DURING THE YEAR.

One year ago today Company A left Ann Arbor for Island Lake. The boys are now on the point of being mustered out.

The chronology of the company since leaving Ann Arbor is as follows:

FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1898.—The day when Patrick Miller was first shot of the war—Commences extra drills at the armory; 40 new men enlisted.

SATURDAY, APR. 23—Receives orders from Gov. Pingree to hold themselves in readiness.

TUESDAY, APR. 26—Left for Island Lake encampment amid much enthusiasm and patriotism.

MONDAY, MAY 2—All but 8 men agree to volunteer for the service.

SATURDAY, May 7—Capt. Kirk promoted to major of 3d battalion of the regiment.

SUNDAY, May 8—1st company in the state to be mustered into the volunteer service.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11—Name of the regiment changed to 31st Michigan Volunteers.

SUNDAY, MAY 15—Left for Chickamauga Park, Tenn.

TUESDAY, MAY 17—Arrived at Chickamauga.

SUNDAY, JULY 24—Anticipate going to Porto Rico. Plans changed later.

MONDAY, AUG. 8—Thirty-first regiment highly commended by Gen. Brooke, Gen. Breckenridge and Gen. Roe.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 10—Fred Von Walhausen dies of fever.

VALUABLE COIN FOUND UNDER COURT HOUSE WALK.

William A. Rayer, while at work removing the earth for the new stone sidewalk on the west side of the court house square this morning, found an old and valuable coin. On one side was a likeness of the first president of the United States, with the following words surrounding it:

GEORGE WASHINGTON, COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

On the reverse side were:

In Commemoration of the Departure of the Continental Army June 19 1778 New York

Mr. Rayer says he intends to keep it until he finds the true value of the coin.

SEALED PROPOSALS.

Sealed proposals will be received at the City Clerk's office until April 27, at 3 p. m., for replanking bridge No. 1, according to specifications now on file at City Clerk's office.

making the coherer less sensitive, and thus make the alarms noticeable at five, ten, or a hundred miles at your own convenience. Marconi says the Italian navy is communicating with some application of this system now. It might prove a beautiful acquisition in warfare, though I candidly admit it is quite early to prophesy. A cipher could be used, and the dangerous practice of "wig-wagging" be done away with.

"Are not the electro-magnetic waves which Marconi uses generated in such a manner that they spread in all directions?"

"Yes, but that can be obviated to a considerable degree. The waves can be reflected in any desired direction by the use of mirrors, but even then, if the receiving station is some miles away, their course is a comparatively wide one and can be tapped by any one who has a receiving instrument of the right sort. A system of wireless telegraph differing in principle from that of Marconi, and promising absolute secrecy, is attracting some attention in the world of science, but even if perfected, its costliness will make it available only for service in which it is feasible to lay out large sums of money. Prof. Zickler, of Brunswick, Germany, claims the honor of having discovered the method, and though there are some rumors of Zickler's outdoing Marconi, I do not think it probable, though as I told you at the beginning of this interview, I consider prophesies somewhat premature."

"The defense in the case is that the original course of the water was over Finkbinder's land, and when Mr. Ernst built the dam he was simply diverting the water back where it originally ran.

BRITISH GUARDS BAND HERE SATURDAY.

Ann Arbor is fortunate in that this week it will have the opportunity of hearing Lieut. Dan Godfrey's band. This band has been making a tour of Canada and has also visited a few of the prominent cities of the United States. Last Sunday they gave a concert in Detroit which was received enthusiastically. During the remainder of this week they will be in the West giving a series of concerts in Chicago and a few intermediate cities. Returning to Detroit for a concert Saturday, they will stop off at Ann Arbor for a few hours and give a matinee on Saturday afternoon. It is by the merest good fortune that this band has been secured, as they were averse to visiting any of the smaller towns when so welcome in the large cities. The band is now making its final tour of this country, and in a short time will leave for Australia.

Godfrey's band, though perhaps not very well known in the United States, is the most famous of all the British military bands. It is a wonderful band and its stirring music fairly carries away the audiences. Those who have heard both bands, say that Sousa's popular band suffers by comparison with Godfrey's, even in playing the "March King's" own productions. The band is the official one of the Royal British Guards and now is absent from duty on furlough. Lieut. Godfrey himself is bandmaster to Her Royal Highness Victoria. The leader and principal musicians when upon the stage in their glorious military uniforms, make an imposing appearance.

The concert there will be given in University hall Saturday afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock. It is to be under the auspices of the University Athletic Association and they will take full charge of the affair. So as to give everybody an opportunity to hear this concert and fill the hall to its limit, the price of admission has been reduced from $1 to 50 cents. There will be no reserved seats.

There is a dam case in the circuit court today.

Charles Finkbinder and Christian Ernst have land on the south-east quarter of Section 24, Bridgewater. Ernst Owns 80 acres, Hochrom has a strip of 22 acres which does not extend clear across the quarter section and Finkbinder own the "L" shaped balance. Heavy rains coming down Ernst's land goes across the corner of Hochrom's, then passes onto the upper corner of Finkbinder's land and again passes onto Ernst's land. That is, it did before Ernst put in a dam just at the point where the water would naturally flow back onto his land. He dammed the water and now Finkbinder is damning him.

The water it is claimed is diverted from the natural course back on Finkbinder's "L" and spills about ten acres of his corn field. The plaintiff contends that in some places 30 feet was washed out and numerous small gulleys made. In fact it has made two fields of his ten acre spot. In consequence he wants damages from Ernst.

The defense in the case is that the original course of the water was over Finkbinder's land, and when Mr. Ernst built the dam he was simply diverting the water back where it originally ran.

Kalamazoo Telegraph: The Hon. W. W. Wadsworth, of Ann Arbor, is the guest of his uncle, J. Kruschbaum. He will probably remain until Tuesday night or Wednesday. L. Gruner, of Ann Arbor, is expected this afternoon to visit his sister, Mrs. J. Kruschbaum. These gentlemen came to attend the fortieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Kruschbaum Tuesday, at which time they will give a progressive pedro party at their home, 213 Portage st.

The second athletic dance of the year will be given next Friday evening. The event promises to be a complete success in every way. It will be strictly informal, and the board desires it to be known that the dance will not be a full dress affair. The patronesses will be Mesdames Angell, Pattengill, McLaughlin, Knowlton, Hutchins, Vaughan, McMurrich, Prentiss, Morris. The U. of M. band will furnish the music.

Public opinion "cuts quite a figure" with almost every person nowadays in all walks and stations in life, and in bowing to public sentiment in the proper direction one can hardly ever go astray. This has already been demonstrated by the advent of Mr. Robert Downing in turning from the classic and romantic drama to the up-to-date modern play. While he has always had more success in this sort of plays than any other star that ever attempted them, he has come to the conclusion

That Well Dressed Feeling

Comes as a natural result of wearing the clothing we sell. The makers of that clothing have solved the problems of how to turn out large quantities of garments that have ALL the attributes of first-class custom work. Indeed it is only the best merchant tailors who can rival the Quality, Style and fit of "ADLER" ready-made and to do this they must charge nearly or quite double the price.

If you will call we shall take pleasure in showing you the new Suits and Top Coats from this celebrated house, and explaining their many points of superiority.

competitors by nearly 25 points. Messrs. Cook and Rogers, of Ypsilanti, were also in the contest and made good scores.

Those who attended the Crary lecture last evening on "England, Scotland and Ireland," report that the entertainment was even better than the one of the previous evening. Those who are letting slip the opportunity of hearing these lectures are missing a treat. The subject this evening is "Italy and Rome." According to newspaper reports this is one of the best numbers on the course.

The local L. A. W. have begun repairs on The Times bicycle path to Ann Arbor. The work is being taken up at the intersection of the road with the short cut through Normal addition and will be carried on west to the end of the path. That portion of the path included in the addition will be repaired by the D. Y. & A. A., as teamsters in their employ are responsible for the damages which have been done it.

Mrs. C. Layton, of Milan, was in the city yesterday.

A good story is told on a Normal road. The young lady had been teaching in the practice school, and, having work which she wished to finish up that day, she remained in her room after the hour for dismissal in the afternoon. At last she finished her duties and started for home. To her dismay, however, she found that it was past 6 o'clock and that the janitor of the building had locked up, gone away and left her there alone. To get out was quite a serious problem, which she was not able to solve for some time. At last, after much weary searching and shedding of tears, an open window was found and by this she succeeded in escaping. To her intense disgust, one of her particular friends among the young gentlemen happened to be passing at the critical moment, and was rewarded by the sight of the young lady crawling through a window ten feet above the ground and jumping from the sill to terra firma. There is now a marked coolness between them, she saying with truly feminine logic that he ought to have known better than to have been walking by the training school at that time.

A PIONEER PASSED AWAY.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the residence of her son, Lester Hayden, occurred the funeral of Mrs. Maria Hayden, who passed quietly away Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Hayden was one of the most interesting figures of the city. Of extreme old age, being eight months over 91 years, she was yet as active and as bright as a woman of 50. Up to her last sickness, which came upon her Friday of last week, she busied herself about the house, doing light work, and also spent a great deal of time reading the newspapers. She always took great interest in the current topics of the day, and enjoyed hugely a discussion, in which she always held her own. Physically, her strength was wonderful, and her senses of sight and hearing were remarkably preserved. The old lady, with her bright wit and cheery temperament, was known and respected throughout her neighborhood.

Mrs. Hayden was born in Genesee county, New York state, in 1807. In 1831 her family moved to Washtenaw county, Michigan, and here it is that she has since made her home. In 1833 she changed her maiden name of Johnson to Wylie, being united in marriage with Daniel Wylie, and her home was then changed to Ypsilanti township. Her union with Daniel Wylie was blessed with the birth of four children. In 1841 Daniel Wylie died. Two years later the widow was married to Moses Hayden, and for 30 happy years enjoyed a second quiet and happy home. For 26 long years she survived her second husband, living for the greater part of this period with her only living son, Lester Hayden, of this city. Mrs. Hayden is survived by two sisters, aged respectively 72 and 76 years, who reside in different parts of the state.

Don't Be Afraid of the Name.

Ath-lo-pho-ro is a hard name to read, pronounce and remember, but it is worth while to give it a prominent place in your memory. It means "The Prize Winner." It takes the prize for curing Neuralgia and Rheumatism. Many physicians will tell you that there is no cure for these troubles. They are mistaken and we have proof to that effect. Again, other physicians will tell you that Ath-lo-pho-ro does cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Now, our advice to you is to investigate for yourself, and find out the truth. This remedy cannot hurt you, and we know that it will do you good. All success is won by unbiased thought. Think for yourself, now. Send for free pamphlet.

Gentlemen—I used Ath-lo-pho-ro for Neuralgia and Rheumatism. I used six bottles and it has cured me of that disease. Please tell others of my experience and let them be cured. AGGIE SYENS, 1429 South 10th st.

THE FIRST SENIOR RECITAL.

Last evening in Normal hall the first of the annual series of senior recitals was given by the Misses Florence Harris, mezzo; Agnes Craig, pianist; Florence Egler, organist; assisted by Prof. F. H. Pease, organist, and Miss Abba Owen, violinist. The recital was well attended and in every way a complete success. The stage was prettily decorated and formed a very effective background for the light gowns of the participants. The numbers were happily chosen and were rendered in a manner which showed the careful training given the young ladies and the earnest effort they themselves have put forth. Miss Florence Harris possesses a sweet, clear voice, which she uses with feeling and skill. Her enunciation is good and her singing betrays not the slightest trace of nervousness, so often the fault of the graduate. Miss Craig plays with much expression and with a very pleasing touch. The Mendelssohn Concerto in G minor, with organ accompaniment by Prof. Pease, was especially good. Miss Egler is one of the few students at the conservatory who have devoted their attention to the organ and her playing was a genuine surprise to those who have not heard her in the past. She executes with skill and expression. The young ladies are to be congratulated upon the success which has attended their final public appearance in the school. If all other members of the senior class acquire themselves equally well, that organization may well assume a goodly measure of pride.

A ROMANTIC STORY.

Ypsilanti finds herself concerned in a most charming little romance, in which the principals are two young people, one a former resident of the city and the other the grandchild of a once well known and highly respected citizen.
These young people are Shelly Hutchinson, the trading stamp millionaire, and Miss Clara Unsinger, his erstwhile stenographer and now his beloved wife, and they are spending a few weeks in this city. They were united in Alameda, Cal., the bride's home, on the 19th of April, and are now taking their wedding trip.

The story of their courtship reads like an old fashioned novel. Some months ago Mr. Hutchinson advertised for a stenographer and was met by the application of Miss Unsinger, among a number of others. Miss Unsinger was chosen for the position and entered under her duties. Gradually the young man became better acquainted with his pretty workwoman and learned to his amazement that she is the granddaughter of the late Deacon Pitkin, a former well known citizen of Ypsilanti, his own former home. A bond of common interest was thus established between the young people, and it soon became stronger than that of mere acquaintance. Miss Unsinger is the daughter of a fairly well to do employe of the customs service in San Francisco, but her position was yet much inferior socially than that of the rising millionaire.
Love levels all barriers, and it needed but an enforced separation of several months to acquaint both Mr. Hutchinson and Miss Unsinger with the fact that their paths were destined to be trodden together. In consequence, the profession of stenographer is lacking one of its fairest followers and Shelly Hutchinson is missing from the ranks of the bachelors. The young people expect to make their permanent home in New York city, which is the center of Mr. Hutchinson's business interests.

The San Francisco Bulletin gives a long account of the affair, from which the following extracts are taken:
"The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents on Park st., the Rev. Brush officiating. The bridesmaid was Miss Adelia Waterman and the best man Mr. Robert Dennis.
The bride, it should be stated, is just 18, very pretty and of charming manners. The groom is in his early thirties.
"Miss Unsinger's father holds a good position in the customs service, and it was really only because of the independence ingrained in so many American girls and women a desire to have an occupation, that she devoted herself to business.

"As for Mr. Hutchinson, as has already been stated, he is a millionaire, young as he is, and a self-made one at that. His firm has branches in over 200 cities in America, Australia, Canada, England and Germany. Within two years the trade papers credit him with making $2,000,000. He is a native of Ypsilanti, Mich., where his parents live, but the center of his business interests is in New York.

"Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson will take the train for the east, stopping at Chicago, Ypsilanti and Detroit before going to New York."

Mrs. Hayden was born in Genessee county, New York state, in 1807. In 1831 her family moved to Washtenaw county, Michigan, and here it is that she has since made her home. In 1833 she changed her maiden name of Johnson to Wylie, being united in marriage with Daniel Wylie, and her home was then changed to Ypsilanti township.
Her union with Daniel Wylie was blessed with the birth of four children.
In 1841 Daniel Wylie died. Two years later the widow was married to Moses Hayden, and for 30 happy years enjoyed a quiet and happy home.
For 26 long years she survived her second husband, living for the greater part of this period with her only living son, Lester Hayden, of this city. Mrs. Hayden is survived by two sisters, aged respectively 72 and 76 years, who reside in different parts of the state.

Don't Be Afraid of the Name.

Ath-lo-pho-ros is a hard name to read, pronounce and remember, but it is worth while to give it a prominent place in your memory. It means "The Prize Winner." It takes the prize for curing Neuralgia and Rheumatism. Many physicians will tell you that there is no cure for these troubles. They are mistaken and we have proof to that effect.
Again, other physicians will tell you that Ath-lo-pho-ros does cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Now, our advice to you is to investigate for yourself and find out the truth. This remedy cannot hurt you, and we know that it will do you good. All success is won by unbiased thought. Think for yourself,
now. Send for free pamphlet.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 3, 1898.
Gentlemen:—I used Ath-lo-pho-ros for Neuralgia and Rheumatism. I used six bottles and it has cured me of that disease. Please tell others of my experience and let them be cured.

THE FIRST SENIOR RECITAL.

Last evening in Normal hall the first of the annual series of senior recitals was given by the Misses Florence Harris, mezzo; Agnes Craig, pianist; Florence Egler, organist; assisted by Prof.
F. H. Pease, organist, and Miss Abba
Owen, violinist. The recital was well attended and in every way a complete success. The stage was prettily decorated and formed a very effective background for the light gowns of the participants. The numbers were happily chosen and were rendered in a manner which showed the careful training given the young ladies and the earnest effort they themselves have put forth.
Miss Florence Harris possesses a sweet, clear voice, which she uses with feeling and skill. Her enunciation is good and her singing betrays not the slightest trace of nervousness, so often the fault of the graduate. Miss Craig plays with much expression and with a very pleasing touch. The Mendelssohn Concerto in G minor, with organ accompaniment by Prof. Pease, was especially good.
Miss Egler is one of the few students at the conservatory who put more devotional attention to the organ and her playing was a genuine surprise to those who have not heard her in the past. She executes with skill and expression. The young ladies are to be congratulated upon the success which has attended their musical appearance in the school. If all other members of the senior class acquit themselves equally well, that organization may well assume a goodly measure of pride.

a box.
Trust not too much to an enchanting face. But always trust Knill's Blue Kidney Pills at 25c. a box.
A thing of beauty is a joy forever.
Knill's Red Pills for Wan People make it.
Jealousy is doubt and doubt is the death of love. But when you take Knill's White Liver Pills you have no doubt, they are effective.
Her very frowns are fairer far than smiles of other maidens are. She had taken Knill's Red Pills for Wan People.
HARDLY.

You cannot cure hams with a hammer.
Or measure a dram with a drama.
Do sums with a summer,
Or yet shear a ram with a rammer.
But you can cure kidney ills
With Knill's Blue Kidney Pills,
At 25c. a box.

Mary was very thin,
Her face was white as snow,
The preacher paid a visit
And told her where to go.
And get Knill's Red Pills for Wan
People,
As they would make her strong and have good color again.

When the wedding bells are ringing,
Everyone will be singing,
"Take Knill's Red Pills for Wan People."

JUDGED BY THEIR MERITS.
Are Knill's Red Pills for Wan People,
Knill's Blue Kidney Pills,
Knill's White Liver Pills.
As everyone that tries them say they are the best and recommend them to their friends. 25c. per box.
